

THE PRINCESS IS NOW VERY SORRY

M. Giron Is Forced to Watch Her, So She Will Not Leave Him.

POPE INTERFERES

By Sending an Ambassador To Make Peace Between the Two Royal People, if Possible.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Vienna, Jan. 8.—Dresden dispatches say that Crown Princess of Saxony has begun to show repentance of her elopement with M. Giron and that he will not let her out of his sight for fear that she will leave him and go back.

Go To A Convent The Princess' relatives hope that she will enter a convent but this is unlikely. Sensations are expected when the child is born. She swears she will kill it rather than allow the Prince to have it and that both she and Giron will swear that it is theirs not the prince's.

Pope's Orders Rome, Jan. 8.—The Pope has instructed Prince Ab Max of Saxony to make final endeavors in his Holiness name to bring about a reconciliation between the Crown Prince and his wife and to spare no pains.

CABLE JOINS THIS CITY WITH HAWAII

Postal Telegraph Has Connection with Honolulu and with the Wireless Station.

Since the opening of the new Pacific cable the local office of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company is in direct touch, if need be, with Honolulu. Manager Dorris reports that he has not yet received or sent any communication over that wire, but it is in a position to do so at any time. It is probable that few people are aware that a telegram intended for a wireless telegraphy message may be sent from the same office. The postal company has made arrangements with the Marconi station on Long Island for the transmission of messages to incoming or outgoing vessels which are fitted with the Marconi receiving apparatus. A list of about twenty ocean liners which are thus equipped is displayed in the local office.

WORKMEN OBJECT TO TELEGRAM

Employees of Vulka Works at Stettin Send an Address to the Kaiser.

Berlin, Jan. 8.—The employees of the Vulkawerke at Stettin, according to a press dispatch, have sent Emperor William the following telegram:

The assembled workmen of the Vulkawerke declare that they disapproved of the collecting signatures to an address supporting the emperor's attitude in the Krupp affair and disapproved with the contents of the telegram sent. They declare, on the other hand, that the telegram was a concoction designed to deceive his majesty regarding the true and honest sentiments of the working classes. The signers were induced by direct or indirect compulsion to sign this telegram. They deem it irreconcilable with their manly honor as workmen to deceive his majesty concerning their true sentiments, and declare that they signed only through fear of pecuniary damage.

A resolution embodying the foregoing was adopted at a stormy meeting. The address complained of was an endorsement of the emperor's two speeches to workmen directed against the late Herr Krupp's assailants.

WASHINGTON'S NIECE DIES AT WAUKEGAN

Woman Who Claimed to Be Related to the First President Is Found Dead in Her Home.

Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 8.—Mrs. Catherine Thompson, an aged woman who claimed to be a grandniece of George Washington, was found dead in her home. She had lived alone in the west part of the town and from indications had been dead a week when found. She was in poor circumstances and had recently received aid from the county. She had refused to go to the poorhouse, saying that a niece of the first president of the United States would never be sent there.

It is not known what truth there is in the woman's claim of relationship, but those who have known her long have believed she came from a good family. Little definite information regarding her life has been learned.

The Barren Republican, published by W. A. Coe, has been leased by C. C. Coe, formerly district attorney.

ENGLAND'S LEAD TO BE FOLLOWED

Austria-Hungary and Italy to Protest Against Violation of the Treaty.

Constantinople, Jan. 8.—Great Britain's protest against the permission granted in September last to four unarmed Russian torpedo boat destroyers to pass through the Dardanelles into the Black Sea under the commercial flag of Russia will, it is believed, be followed by similar action on the part of Austria-Hungary and Italy, while Germany and France will remain aloof. Germany's traditional policy not to embarrass the Porte, while France, naturally, abstains from acting against the interests of her ally, Russia.

Paris, Jan. 8.—The Temp's correspondent at Constantinople telegraphs that representatives of the Mausers signed a contract today providing for the delivery to the Ottoman army of 200,000 rifles.

NATIVES TELL THEIR STORIES

Filipinos Appear and Testify Against Major Glenn, During His Trial.

Manila, Jan. 7.—Two natives were the only witnesses at the trial today of Major Edwin F. Glenn, who is charged with unlawfully killing seven prisoners of war. The witnesses told of Major Glenn's arrival at Calbayog and of his having warned the citizens that if the insurgents failed to surrender they would be used as guides to conduct an American column to the enemy. One witness testified that Major Glenn had taxed him with knowing the location of General Lukban's camp. He said that the major warned him that if he failed to find Lukban that he would be either hanged or shot. The witnesses gave the names of the seven guides, who are alleged to have been executed under Major Glenn's orders.

CHINA RECEIVES FORMAL WARNING

Minister Conger Is the Only One Who Refuses to Sign the Joint Note.

Peking, Jan. 8.—At a meeting today all of the foreign ministers except United States minister, Conger, signed the joint note informing the Chinese government that failure to fulfill its obligations in refusing to pay the war indemnity on a gold basis, as provided for by the peace protocol, would entail grave consequences. The Russian customs negotiations are continuing. The British and Japanese representatives have advised the Chinese to reject the proposals and the Chinese say that they will do so. The Russian representative suggested modifications of the original scheme, with the object of securing control of the Manchurian customs. Chinese ability to resist Russian pressure in this connection is doubtful.

NEGROES RIGHTS ARE ALL UPHELD

English Papers Stand by President Roosevelt's Decisions, and Praise Him.

London, Jan. 8.—The recent action of President Roosevelt in protecting the political rights of negroes in the South is attracting attention in England.

The sentiment is clearly in favor of Mr. Roosevelt, but the Globe, which often makes unfriendly criticisms on the United States, says the American people are far more competent to judge of the qualifications of a negro than nations whose populations are free of his presence. "It is safe to assert," the Globe declares, "that no civilized country in Europe would welcome African immigration on a large scale."

It is believed here that the movement started by Agilpay will die out as soon as Monsignore Guidi re-organizes the church in the Philippines and establishes an ecclesiastical hierarchy according to the plans set forth in the papal bull of September 17, which has been published at Manila.

REGULATES ALL STATE BARBERS

COPY OF BILL NOW IN THE CITY
ALL ARE TO BE REGISTERED

Bill to License Barbers Will Be Taken to Madison—Whittaker on Committee.

M. H. Whittaker, in his capacity as member of the Wisconsin Barbers' Legislative committee, has prepared for circulation about the state a draft of the proposed bill for licensing barbers. Together with the copy of the bill a petition has been drawn up, and signers will be solicited throughout the state.

The legislative committee, which met last week at Madison to confer regarding the proper steps to take regarding the passage of the act, consists of F. J. Victoris of Oshkosh, Axel Douhan of West Superior and M. H. Whittaker of this city.

Contents of Bill
"A Bill for the Licensing and Regulating the Profession of Barbers," is the title of the act. Its purpose is to prohibit all wielders of the razor from practicing their craft who are inefficient, unsanitary in the conduct of their shops or in any way unfit.

It is provided that all barbers must have a certificate issued by a board of examiners. This requirement shall not elect any who are engaged in the business, except as they are barred by some one of the conditions which will be stated later. The examining board shall consist of three practical barbers, appointed by the governor, who have practiced in this state for at least five years.

The term of these examiners shall be for two years, with the exception of the first board. They shall be appointed for one, two and three years, respectively, so that one vacancy will occur each year. If any position shall become vacant before the expiration of the term, it shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired period.

Remuneration of Board
A president, secretary and treasurer shall be appointed by the board. The latter two offices may be filled by one man. In return for their service the members shall receive three dollars a day and their actual expenses for the time of actual service. They shall receive three cents a mile for each mile actually traveled to attend the meetings. This sum shall be paid from the money in the hands of the treasurer of the board. Under no circumstances shall any call be made upon the state treasury.

As originally planned by some of those interested in the bill the board were to receive six dollars a day, but this sum was halved that there might be no feeling that there was any desire for "graft."

Meet Every Quarter
Examinations shall be held by the board at least four times a year. The places of the meetings shall be so arranged as to be as accessible to every part of the state. No one place shall be adhered to.

If a complaint is made from any source that a shop is in unsanitary condition, a member of the board shall visit it. If he considers the charges founded he shall take steps to remedy the evil, and enforce more strict care in that respect.

Records, which shall be readily accessible to the public, shall be kept of all applicants for licenses, and the action which was taken in regard to each one. The record shall also give a complete list of all licensed barbers and shops.

Must Apply For License
Within ninety days from the passage of the act, if it is passed, every barber now practicing shall file with the board a notice of the same and a certificate will be issued upon payment of one dollar.

Later applicants must be examined by the board. The charge for the examination shall be five dollars. To be eligible for a certificate the applicant must have studied the trade for three years as an apprentice under a qualified and existing barber, or studied for three years in a good barber school, or practiced the trade for three years in this or any other state. The examination shall cover his skill in the art, his ability to keep his tools in order, and his knowledge of the common diseases of the face.

Insignia To Be Displayed
Each person passing the examination shall be furnished with a card or insignia to indicate that the holder is qualified to practice the trade. On the first of July of each year a new certificate shall be issued at a cost of fifty cents.

If a shop is in unsanitary condition the health officer shall be notified by a member of the board and it shall be quarantined. A certificate may be revoked for conviction of crime, habitual drunkenness, gross incompetency or the imparting of infectious or contagious diseases. After ninety days of the withdrawal of a certificate application may be made for another.

For violation of any section of the bill a fine of from $25 to $100 shall be imposed.

CHARMING OPERA IS FLORODORA

ICE FETE GIVEN AT MADISON TO START FUND.

WOMAN'S BUILDING PLANNED

To Include a Gymnasium, and Other Rooms to Meet Needs of Women Students.

Women of Wisconsin are taking an interest in the ice fete which is now being held in Madison under the auspices of the women of the university. The object of the fete is to start a building fund for the erection of a new Woman's building. The idea of such a building originated with the women of the University League and they have united with the girl students in starting the project in a practical way.

Lack of Atmosphere
The fact has often been commented on that at the universities there is less of that desirable something called college atmosphere—mysterious compound of things intellectual, things social and things spiritual—than in the smaller colleges where the students live on one campus in one family circle. This lack is felt by the women especially because the men have more opportunities for acquiring the cultivation that comes from touching the world at many points.

Dormitories Wanted
The cottage system would probably do more than anything else to remedy this defect. Those interested in the university look forward with eagerness to the time when there shall be dormitories for the women students of whom there are now between six and seven hundred. In the meantime there are certain definite needs of the women which cottages could not satisfy. And there is a strong feeling that a Woman's building would not only meet these needs, but would be an important influence in the promotion of that spirit of unity which is the basis of the best college life.

The Ideal Building
A new gymnasium at the university is an immediate necessity; the old one has been outgrown. It was proposed, therefore that instead of merely petitioning the legislature for a gymnasium, the women should bestir themselves and arouse the state to obtain an ideal Woman's building. The proposed building will contain not only the gymnasium with its accessory swimming tank, bowling alleys and so forth, but parlors and reading rooms, meeting rooms, and offices for the various organizations of women, small rest rooms, an auditorium with a stage for theatricals, reception rooms for any university functions, and a kitchen and lunchroom.

Its Value
Such a building would be constantly drawing the girls together. It would become the center of all their activities. It would enable them to accomplish some very desirable things that are now almost, if not quite, impossible. Such a building ought first of all be beautiful and to become gradually filled with beautiful things; and it is not difficult to see how much it would feel that this building belonged to them, and it was their college home, that it was theirs to beautify and enjoy. In fact the women of the university are enthusiastic over the value of such a building.

TWO SUITS OF SAME NAME

Single Case Would Have Made Total Sum Too Great For Justice Court

The case brought by Nicholas Walsh against James Young was called in Justice Reeder's court and adjourned. A case of similar title was called before. Both suits are for the recovery of notes alleged to be due. The total amount would reach beyond the maximum which may be tried in a justice-of-the-peace court, so it was divided into two suits.

In the same court judgment was given finding Mrs. Carr guilty of unlawful detainer. A writ of restitution was issued, and the defendant was ordered to pay the costs of the action, $17.34. The plaintiff in the action was F. A. Taylor.

In Jesse Earle's court the case of George Baccash against George Phillips was tried and continued for a decision to Monday. The defendant sold Mr. Baccash a second hand stove which it is alleged was not as represented.

lighted over the triumphant passage of Noel's bill for emancipation in Missouri. Its principal features remain precisely as they were telegraphed in the despatches some three weeks ago, except in the third section. This, which provides that nothing shall be paid for any slave imported after this date, or to any owner who either is or has been disloyal, is now amended so as to provide also that no owner who may have willfully refused to take the oath of allegiance to the government of the United States when required there to by any military or civil authority of the United States, or of the state of Missouri shall receive any compensation for loss of service of his slaves.

A ball will be held at the Myers house tonight for the benefit of the 12th battery. All of our citizens have a deep and many a personal interest in this battery, and when so many inducements exist to attend this party there is every reason to expect a large as well as a pleasant gathering.

CHARMING OPERA IS FLORODORA

Is on the Boards at the Myers Grand on Friday Evening

Next,
"Florodora" endorsed by the Metropolitan critics as the best thing in musical comedy seen on the New York stage in years, comes to the Myers Grand next Friday evening for an engagement limited to only one performance. Managers John C. Fisher and Thomas W. Ryley, who own the exclusive American and Canadian rights to "Florodora" are deserving of the success which has attended the American production of the great English comedy. These gentlemen placed the piece before the New York public with a strength of cast and perfection of detail which was highly commendable, and when once the triumph of the play was established they set about adding to its attractions with a seeming disregard for expense. Its introduction in Janesville will be attended by most thorough arrangements in every department of the big production. The company numbers over seventy persons, the scenery, costumes and accessories are all new this season, and everything will be done for the presentation here that it may win the same favor as in New York and elsewhere.

President Hughes Address

President Richard Hughes of Ripon college delivered a telling address before the Milwaukee meeting of the State Teachers' association. The address caused considerable talk and much newspaper comment throughout the state and it is with pleasure that the Gazette is able to present to the readers the article in full just as it was read before the Milwaukee meeting.

Mr. Hughes is very sound on his principles and the article should be of excellent food for thought for those who are interested in the welfare of the city schools particularly the high school and their relations to the university and colleges throughout the state.

The article follows:
Secondary School Relations
 "The free public high school as we have it today is of recent origin. In the order of founding the college came first followed by the elementary school. Students were fitted for college by private tutors or in private academies. Local pride in the home school, together with the pride to keep the children at home during the important period of their preparation for college resulted in the growth of these local elementary schools into proper fitting schools for college, forming the link between the elementary and higher education, commonly called the secondary. These secondary schools have been largely dominated by college and university influence, but of late the local communities have been making demands upon their own schools not always in harmony with the demands made by the colleges and universities, and the schools have been forced to try various expedients to adapt their work to suit these demands. Some schools have emphasized the college preparatory course, while others have entirely neglected it, while still others have added separate courses as they were called for either side, until in some communities the public mind is confused as to what the proper work for the high school really is. The fact that the inspectors sent out by the various colleges and universities do not always agree in their reports, or the advice they give, has not tended to relieve the situation.

"Many are convinced that the high school has now won a place for itself in the educational world with the right to be heard in the councils that determine what it shall be and what it shall teach. That it has outgrown its position as a mere fitting school for college and is now in reality 'The People's College.' That there should be some confusion in the public mind regarding the legitimate work of the high school is not to be wondered at when we remember how rapidly these schools came into existence. The whole number of free public high schools reporting to the commissioner of education of the United States in 1860 was 40. In 1870 was 160, in 1880 was 800, in 1890 was 2526, in 1899 was 5495, in 1900 was 6005.

"The number of students in these schools has increased from 2150 in a million of the population in '76, to 7620 in each million in 1898. I have been asked to give an outline the way the problem of modern high school is being solved in a neighboring western state, Iowa.

"A committee of six from the college section of the state association worked some time upon the question of college entrance upon certificate from accredited schools, until it was evident that the interests of all could be best served by having a regular channel of communication with the schools, so that their needs could be clearly understood. As expressed in a recent letter from this committee:

"It was decided that the placing of any high school upon the fully accredited list of the colleges was a matter of sufficient dignity and importance to constitute a sort of affiliation between the said high school and the colleges and ought therefore to entitle the superintendents of such schools to be considered an advisory committee worthy of consultation in regard to all proposed changes in entrance requirements and other regulations regarding the mutual relations of the high school and the college."

"The state association appointed a committee of twelve on secondary relations, six members from the university and the colleges, six from the high schools, including the president of the state normal school. The state superintendent of public instruction met with the committee and gave active and most efficient help in this work.

"The committee held frequent meetings for a full and frank discussion of the entire situation with the honest desire to bring about the best result for all the interests involved. The following question was raised: 'What is the real condition of high school courses in Iowa? What are the requirements of the courses suggested by the National Educational association? What are the entrance requirements of the colleges belonging to the college department of the Iowa State Teachers' association? How far do the general conditions of our high schools and their constitutions demand courses differing from the college preparatory course, and what attitude ought to college men hold toward the high schools in this regard? Is it feasible to have one course in each high school which shall be specifically a college preparatory course? How far is it possible for all the high schools to have uniform courses and what can we do to bring them into general use? The comparative value of time, kind and quality in preparatory work. Is it feasible to have a high school manual which shall outline the kind and amount of work, give suggestions for proper equipment for the teaching of each subject, give suggestions about proper methods of teaching in the respective branches, as to text books and various other matters of importance to the school?'"

"This committee elicited the fact that there 'was great confusion in our high school courses of study, and that there was an utter lack of uniformity, in estimate of the relative value of subjects and groups of subjects, and no uniformity as to the beginnings and endings of the high school courses.'"

"Data was carefully gathered from the entire state to aid in answering these questions and the committee formulated a list of principles governing their work. I quote from the first one of these to give an idea of the point of view taken:

"1st. It was agreed that the aim of the high school was not to fit for college. People do not and will not consider it specifically a college preparatory school. No more is it a school to fit for business occupations, mechanical pursuits or any of the professions. Its specific purpose is to fit its pupils for the duties of life. It may become the duty of life to go to college, to engage in business, to practice law or medicine or any one of a hundred other conceivable things unforeseen by the pupil when he is in the high school. The aim of the high school course should, therefore, be to give the child a solid discipline of its faculties, a broad view of life, proper self control, a trained judgment, an appreciation of educational values, proper methods of study and work, and inspiration for life and study, and such a command of himself and of all his powers as shall enable him advantageously and intelligently to take up any of the legitimate things which may become the duty of life."

"2nd. The student will not, as a rule, remain more than four years in the high school, hence the course there given should be so arranged that the pupils who complete any well-ordered four-year course should be admitted to college with out conditions. Furthermore, the pupil, at the beginning of his high school course, cannot determine what course he should pursue if he goes to college; nor is he at that time competent to decide what college course he may take, as very few enter high school with that distinct idea of completing a full college course. It should therefore not be easier to enter one course in college than another."

"Following this statement of principles they published 'A manual setting forth the course of study adopted by the general association, a discussion of each subject in the course and various other matters of value to high school teachers and school board.' The manuscripts of this manual were read and criticised by many of the best teachers in the state before they were finally accepted by the committee, and the preliminary reports, together with the general plan for the manual were carefully discussed in the sections so that when the manual was finally adopted by the state association it expressed the consensus of opinion of the teachers in both schools and colleges and the university. The results have been so good that the committee has been re-appointed to continue its investigations. This work has been done previously by the state university and by several of the colleges separately, but never before so effectively as by this joint committee, representing in its personnel every point of view within the state.

Conditions in Wisconsin are different from those in Iowa. The problems to be solved are not the same. We cannot imitate what has been done there, but there is an opportunity for a joint committee from this association to do great good. The present system of high school inspection is complicated. Inspectors are sent out from the state department, the state university, the various colleges within the state, and by others from the outside. A joint committee on secondary school relations would simplify this inspection and get the help of the high school teachers themselves, the ones who know most about the important questions involved. The initiative rests with the high school people and I suggest that the high school conferences following this session consider the advisability of raising such a joint committee from the state association, representing the high schools, the state department, the state university and the colleges.

le or political horizon that threatens to cause an embarrassment or a retardment to our cigar industry at least to that overtowering branch of it that uses only domestic and for some part Sumatra leaf. Neither does the general prosperity of the country seem to be in any shape or measure on the wane, which means that our capacity for consumption will remain in the ascendancy. And increasing consumption means increasing demands for a supply of leaf tobacco. On the other hand, we know that the provisions of the supply have not kept in due proportion with the increased demands. Though the acreage of the domestic leaf land has been exceeded in some states, it has by no means been overdone and the yield of the crop does not fully correspond to expectations. But some better crops will undoubtedly be marketed in 1903 than were in 1902, particularly the New England and Wisconsin crops, and although we anticipate to hear again the cry that no money will be or has been made on these crops, the market at least will not have to pass through a sleepless anxiety of getting rid of damaged and defective crops.

Prospects are Bright
 The prospects for the leaf market during the current year are brighter than ever before, but an enlarged success depends chiefly on its accommodation to the changed conditions. It holds good for trade, commerce and industry, as well as what Darwin established as a fact for natural history: The survival of the fittest.

All interested in the development of the tobacco industry of the state should keep in mind the date of the annual meeting of the Tobacco Growers' and Dealers' association at Madison, Jan. 21st, 1903. It is expected that a large display of leaf will be made in competition for a number of prizes offered by the convention. Growers should arrange to bring in samples of their crops and compare notes.

DO NOT DOSE THE STOMACH
 Cure Catarrh by Nature's Own Method—Every Breath of Hyomel Brings Relief.
 Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it by drugging the stomach. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.
 Until recently your physician would have said the only way to cure catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with Hyomel you can carry a health giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day soon cure yourself.
 The complete outfit of Hyomel costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomel. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and there is enough Hyomel for more than a month's treatment of catarrh. If one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomel can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.
 People's Drug Co. have sold hundreds of Hyomel outfits and the more they sell the more convinced they are that they are perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomel does not cure.
 Those who are subject to catarrh or catarrhal colds will do themselves an injustice if they do not purchase a Hyomel outfit at once so as to be prepared for the sudden changes of the season.

The Tobacco Market.

Most of the local tobacco warehouses are now open for business and the balance will be running full blast in the course of a short time. Tobacco has been coming in from the country in a steady strain since New Year's, and a majority of the warehouses had plenty of leaf on hand Monday morning to give employment to all the sorters that applied for work.

Servants are Scarce
 Since the opening of the warehouses there has been trouble among the housewives of the city. Many married men are noticed eating at the restaurants on account of their wives not caring to get the meals themselves. At the present time a servant girl is worth her weight in gold at almost any home. When the warehouses are all open there will be in the neighborhood of 1,000 sorters and 200 floor hands employed.

Delivered in Good Shape
 It is a general comment among the dealers that the tobacco this year is being delivered in better shape than usual. The growers have taken pains to sort their tobacco in first class shape and as a general thing have taken out all the trash and damaged leaf. However the dealers come across a crop now and then that has some damaged leaf in the bundles that the farmer hopes will be overlooked by the receiver.

Distributes Much Money
 The deliveries of the next few weeks will bring the growers the largest amount of money ever before taken for the product. The distribution of three or four million dollars about the growing districts must put an end to the doubt about the farmer making money on raising tobacco.

It is generally conceded that at the present time there is less tobacco still in the hands of the growers than at any time for a number of years. The crop grown in 1902 has been better than the average and was a ready seller in fact the year just passed was one of the best in the history of tobacco cultivation.

Might Below Estimate
 The crop is weighing out much lighter than usual, a fact that is causing some surprise because of the well known large growth in the fields. This is an evidence that the leaf is thin as well as not in high case. Packers report that the average yield of crops so far received is considerably below 1500 pounds per acre—probably 1200 pounds would be the nearer figure. Should this estimate be good throughout the crop, there will be several thousand cases less in the yield of the year 1902 than was expected. Three cases to the acre will come nearer the estimated yield than any figures yet made concerning it.

Old Goods Steady
 The trade in old leaf shows no startling changes. There is a steady trade, however, the cigar manufacturers doing most of the buying.

Connecticut
 The damp weather of the past week has enabled the farmers to take the tobacco down, and the greater part of the crop is now in the bundle. The early cut crops have generally cured well, but where the tobacco was hung close and had poor ventilation there is serious damage from pole sweat. The top price is said to be 12 cents, and yet there have been comparatively few sales. An interesting tobacco suit for alleged breach of contract was tried in Westfield, with the result that a verbal bargain on memorandum contract does not hold.

Pennsylvania
 While the dealers one and all have grumbled at times during the twelve months just ended, they admit that on the whole the usual volume of trade was done, and some are rubbing their hands in glee while they tell that they sold more tobacco in 1902 than during any year during the past decade. It is true all rail at the small profits, and while there may be some just cause of complaint on that score, it deserves to be said that the failures in the trade in this locality since last January were fewer in number than I can remember. In fact, no leaf dealer of any prominence went by the board and all appear to be in good shape today.

Fire Costs
 The following are a few extracts from the U. S. Tobacco Journal's fire cost for the year 1902:
 It may be safely predicted that even a more active year is in view for the leaf trade than the past has been. That is to say, it may be safely speculated on a larger volume of business than during any year so far. For there is nothing in our econom-

MEXICAN CURRENCY

The public discussion of a possible change in the standard of currency in Mexico adds interest to a statement just prepared by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics regarding the trade relations between the United States and that country. With no part of the world has the commerce of the United States grown more rapidly in recent years than with Mexico. Exports to Mexico from the United States which amounted to 15 million dollars in 1891, will be over 40 millions in 1902, and imports into the United States from Mexico, which were 28 millions in 1891, will be fully 41 millions in 1902. Mexico is the one country with which our imports and exports balance. To Canada, that other adjacent country, we sell twice as much as the value of our purchases from it. Our imports from the Central American countries are 50 per cent. more than our exports to those countries. From the West Indies our imports are nearly twice as large in value as our exports to them. From South America our imports are nearly three times as great as the value of our exports to them, and from Asia our imports are more than double our exports to that part of the world. To Europe we export nearly three times as much as we import from that continent. In the case of Mexico, however, our exports to that country are at present just equal our imports from that country, the total value of the exports from the United States to Mexico in the 11 months ending with November, 1902 being $38,124,159, and our imports from Mexico during the same period, $38,712,051.

Mexico's trade with the United States grows more rapidly than that with any other part of the world. The exports from the United Kingdom to Mexico grew from 8 million dollars in 181 to 10 1/2 millions in 1900; those from France to Mexico, from 9 millions in 1851 to 7 millions in 1899; those from Germany grew from $700,000 in 1851 to 5 millions in 1899, and those from Spain, from $871,000 in 1851 to a little less than 2 millions in 1900; while from the United States, the exports from Mexico grew from 11 million dollars in 1851 to 35 millions in 1900, and, as already indicated, over 40 millions in 1902.

Contiguity, quick rail communication, and the presence of large American interests in Mexico are the principal causes of the rapid gains which the United States is making over her rivals in the trade of Mexico. Over 9,000 miles of railroad are now in operation in Mexico, bringing all parts of that country in direct communication with the United States, and according to a recent statement furnished to the state department by the United States consul general in Mexico, fully $400,000,000 of capital from the United States is invested in that country, and many citizens of the United States are located temporarily or otherwise in Mexico. Mexico is the one country south of the United States to which our exports show an appreciable growth. To the Central American states our exports in 1900 were $5,296,478, and in 1902, $6,322,665; to South America our exports in 1890 were $88,752,648, in 1902, $38,042,617; to the West Indies our exports in 1890 were $23,187,222, in 1902, $43,632,951; while in Mexico our exports in 1890 were $13,255,287, in 1902, $39,873,606, and in the calendar year 1902 will be over 40 million dollars.

The most important of our exports to Mexico are manufactures of iron and steel, machinery, manufactured cotton, lumber, manufactured wood, manufactures of cotton, and gunpowder. Our imports from Mexico are chiefly textile grasses, especially sisal, coffee, hides, cattle, lead, copper, and tobacco; and in addition to these there are large quantities of silver in ore and considerable gold which are not included in the figures of imports of merchandise.

THAT PACIFIC CABLE

Last Monday the cable connections between this country and Hawaii were completed and another triumph added to the laurels of the name of MacKay. While not directly the Postal Telegraph company the new cable like is closely affiliated with it and its completion makes the success and efficiency of that progressive company better than ever. In fact the business world today owes much to the Postal Telegraph company in the way of forcing the Western Union to keep abreast of the times and increasing its service.

AFTER MILES

Rarely has an American officer received such a severe rebuke as the Washington Star administers to General Miles, when it calls attention to the fact that the unprecedented courtesies which he is now receiving from foreign notables during his journey around the world is not in any sense personal but a tribute to the American army, whose wonderful efficiency is just being appreciated abroad.

Yet for the past three years the one person in official life who has been busy trying to discover defects and shortcomings in that army for use in personal intrigues is Nelson A. Miles. Surely it is a species of poetic justice that he should receive from foreigners the proofs of his high standing notwithstanding his efforts at home to make that standing seem low.

THAT CANAL

Max Nordau, an Austrian writer of celebrity, says the opening of the Panama canal under the control of the United States will mark an epoch of conquest in which "the tragic stage of the world's history" will be transferred to the Pacific ocean. The Anglo-Saxon will seek to drive France and Germany from points they hold in the Pacific ocean and then the struggle will be transferred to the Asiatic coast, where Russian and Anglo-Saxon will fight out the question of Russian or British supremacy in Asia. Mr. Nordau's conclusions contemplate participation on the part of the United States in the struggle for Asia, probably on account of the long reach, we have already made in that direction.

"What the Janesville Gazette does not know about police affairs in Beloit would fill quite a book indeed, possibly larger than a book containing what it thinks it knows but doesn't. Our neighbor should not be too imaginative."—Beloit Free Press. The above clipping from the Free Press is most complimentary to the Gazette. But just the same we notice that the Free Press very often clips articles complete from the Gazette's columns and fails to give the credit to its Janesville contemporary. But perhaps the young men of the Free Press are too busy to stop for such a little thing as credits.

ENDS HIS LIFE WITH A BULLET

FRED MILLER KILLS HIMSELF
WHILE DESPONDENT.

DEAD FOR HOURS WHEN FOUND

The Body Was Discovered on the Floor of His Room at the Union House.

Fred Miller, fifty-two years of age, a resident of this city for several years, put an end to his earthly existence yesterday afternoon by shooting himself in the head with a revolver at his room at the Union house. Just when the deed was committed is not known. Miller was about the house during the afternoon and seemed to be in quite a jovial mood. He went up to his room some time after three o'clock and this was the last that was seen of him alive. He had been sick for some time and stated yesterday that he felt better. He did not act at all low spirited.

Body Found.
Last evening about 6:30 when he did not come to supper Edward Behrendt went up to his room to call him. He found that the door was not locked and walked inside. Miller's head was muzzled up like he had been lying down but he was not in it. Behrendt walked to the foot of the bed, and as the room was dark lighted a match to see if Miller was there. Miller lay on his back on the floor with a bullet hole in the center of his forehead. His right hand was across his stomach and a thirty-two calibre revolver lying just beyond his hand, as if it had been dropped after the shot was fired.

Careful Preparation.
Miller had made careful preparations for doing the shooting. He was fully dressed and had laid his overcoat out on the floor so he would not get any blood on the carpet. From the position of his body he must have been sitting up when he fired the shot and dropped over backwards. He evidently had a horror of feeling the cold muzzle of a pistol against his forehead as he had tied a stick to the underside of the barrel which held the muzzle about two inches away from his head.

Inquest Held.
As soon as the body was discovered Mr. Behrendt notified the authorities and Deputy Sheriff Cochran summoned a coroner's jury, who in company with Justice Earle went to the hotel and viewed the remains. An adjournment was then taken until two o'clock this afternoon to hear the evidence.

Taken To Undertaker's.
The body was taken on the patrol wagon to Kimball's undertaking rooms, where Dr. Joe Walting made an examination of the wound. The hole was almost in the center of the forehead. The bullet passed through the brain and rested against the skull in the rear, so that death must have been instantaneous. Dr. Walting was of the opinion that Miller had been dead several hours and as he went up stairs about three o'clock he must have killed himself shortly after he went to his room.

Lived Here.
The dead man resided in Janesville for several years and lived on McKey boulevard in Spring Brook. About four months ago his wife secured a divorce from him and since that time he has lived at the Union house. He was a capenter by trade and was at one time employed by the Janesville Street Railway company. He has been quite despondent since his wife secured the divorce and has also been sick for the last few weeks. It is thought that brooding over his domestic troubles together with his sickness caused him to end his existence. He has a brother living at Kaukauna and a sister at Jefferson.

The Jury.
The coroner's jury consisting of W. A. Farmer, H. H. McKinney, F. L. Clemens, Ward Stevens, C. E. Curtis and Thurston Mason met at Justice Earle's court at two o'clock this afternoon to investigate the death. The jury listened to the testimony of Edward Behrendt, Antone Behrendt, Wallace Cochran and Dr. Joe Walting. They found that Fred Miller came to his death at the city of Janesville, January 7, 1903, by means of a gunshot wound inflicted by himself with suicidal intent.

PROPOSITION FOR THE SUGAR PLANT

BEET SUGAR CONCERN WOULD ERECT WORKS HERE.

WANT FOUR THOUSAND ACRES

Efforts to Contract for More Land
Meet with Great Success This Year.

Propositions for the erection of a beet sugar factory have been brought before the city so often and with so little result that it is not to be wondered at that skepticism has resulted regarding the good faith of the offer. Edward Stark, who is soliciting acreage for the Wisconsin Beet Sugar company, is authority for the statement that Janesville is in a fair way to secure a half million dollar factory in the course of a few years. All that is essential to induce the company to erect a factory on any city is the pledging of four thousand acres of land to be planted with sugar beets. This amount is not to be expected here at once, but if the same increase occurs each year, that amount under cultivation will not be postponed far into the future.

Mammoth Sugar Concern.
But one factory for the production of beet sugar is now maintained in that state; that at Menominee Falls, in the interests of which Mr. Stark is here. But it is desired to augment the number as rapidly as can be wisely done, to ten or a dozen. Each of these plants will have a capacity of six hundred tons daily, the same as the one now in operation. To maintain that output six thousand acres of sugar beets are necessary. The company would be willing, however, to erect a factory when two-thirds of that amount has been secured, confident that it would reach the desired total within a reasonable number of years. The cost of building such a factory aside from the running expenses, would be about $500,000. All of these figures are taken from the Menominee Falls plant.

Met With Signal Success.
That the possibility of securing such an acreage is not to be regarded as preposterous, is indicated, says Mr. Stark, by the success with which his efforts to secure pledges for this year have met. In two days' work on the Milton avenue road he has obtained the signatures of farmers for fifty acres, only three men with whom he has talked having failed to sign for at least an acre. He has taken each house in order, omitting none. One man wished to plant twenty acres, but this was refused him and he was obliged to be satisfied with five. That is the maximum amount which the company will contract for with any one person. The explanation of this is that they desire to interest as many as possible in the industry.

Want Five Hundred Acres.
Six thousand acres will produce all the beets that the Menominee Falls works can handle. Of this amount five hundred is assigned to Janesville and the vicinity. It is planned to interest at least one hundred men in the beet raising so that when it is possible to utilize a greater crop, a large number of experienced raisers will be at hand.

The following list will indicate the truth of Mr. Stark's statements. In it are indicated the number of acres which several farmers raised last year and the number they have contracted for this. George Coy, 1902, 1 acre; 1903, 5. Henry Woodstock, 1902, 1/2; 1903, 1; Emil Schultz, 1902, 1; 1903, 4; Enoch Taylor, 1902, 3/4; 1903, 5; J. A. Decker, 1902, 1; 1903, 5; Chas. Dixon, 1902, 1; 1903, 3. Those who have in the past two years contracted for acreage for the first time are J. J. Roach, George Zanzinger, Frank Sager, Orson Caulkins, Michael McCue, C. R. Wright, James Wright, Herman Risch, William Wright, George Hilton, John Kirk and Edwin Fife.

PROTEST FILED BY FIFIELD BROTHERS

Notice Served on City That They Will Not Pay Street Improvement Assessments.

Notice of protest against levying any assessment for street improvement against the property of Frank E. Fifield and James S. Fifield, located on Wall and North Franklin streets, was filed by the owners with City Clerk Badger, Wednesday afternoon. The work, payment for which is protested against, is the macadamizing of the two streets which was done last summer.

Messrs. Fifield claim that the work and the alleged improvement was ordered and contracted for, contrary to the provisions of the statutes of the state and the city charter and that they are consequently illegal and void. It is claimed further that the work was not done according to contract; that the sub-grade was not brought to the contour of the finished grade; that the grade and stone were not rolled according to contract and that the stone was placed on the streets when the same were soft and muddy; and that the contracts were otherwise violated so that the streets as supposed to be finished are not in accordance with the plans and specifications.

The protest states that notice was given the contractor, mayor, street assessment committee, city engineer and overseer of said streets at the time of said violations. Messrs. Fifield protest against and forbid any bonds to be issued against their property on Wall and North Franklin streets to pay such special assessments. They assert that if any bonds are issued, they will claim they are void and refuse to pay them for the reasons stated in the notice to the city.

BELOIT BELIEVES HOTEL IS COMING

THINKS NEW PLAN MAY BRING THE HOSTELRY.

INDIANA MEN MAKE AN OFFER

Will Loan as Much Money as the City
Wishes to Spend on a Building.

Light is beginning to dawn upon the troublesome hotel question at Beloit. At last two men have been found, it is believed, who stand ready with an offer which will produce the desired hostelry. Of course there are one or two preliminaries to be disposed of before the building can be regarded as assured beyond a shadow of a doubt, but things look very well just now.

Two Indiana Builders.
Crandall and Drake, two Columbus, Ind., contractors, are the gentlemen to whom Beloit's heartfelt thanks are now being lavishly outpoured. They have recently completed a $150,000 hotel at West Baden, Ind., and they are now in a position to put up one in Beloit. They will match any sum the citizens may raise, put the lump into a hotel and turn it over to the city.

Fifty Thousand Dollar Hotel.
The original committee of eighteen men who began the hotel agitation met in Beloit, heard the proposal, and decided that it looked good. The next step will be to bring one of the two gentlemen to Beloit and give him a chance to talk to some of the citizens. Mr. Crandall suggested a structure of eighty rooms, costing fifty thousand dollars. The amount put in by the contractors will be regarded as a loan to be repaid in ten years.

Eccentricity.
Cable dispatches designate the crown princess of Saxony as "quite eccentric" because she left her husband when that gentleman set up a second domestic establishment with an actress. In this country her royal highness will be considered indeed eccentric, not because she left her husband, but because she didn't wear out a rolling pin on his royal head.

MISSIONS TO BE DISCUSSED

This program will be followed by a picnic supper, which will be served at six o'clock and in the evening there will be another session. The evening session will be devoted to a special program in connection with the opening of the mite envelopes.

The annual meeting of the Citizens' Mutual Fire Insurance company will be held at the offices of the company in the Jackman building, on Monday evening, January 12, 1903 at 7:30 p. m.

STATEHOOD FIGHT MAY BE SETTLED QUAY IS FOR OMNIBUS BILL

New Plan, However, is Likely to Meet With Favor From Senators Who Do Not Wish to Waste Time Over the Matter.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The prospect that the conflict on the statehood question may consume nearly all the time of the session has moved the Republican leaders to renewed efforts toward a compromise. Talk about the senate indicated the possibility of a settlement on the basis of two states, one to be composed of Oklahoma and Indian Territory and the other of New Mexico and Arizona. The men who are conducting the fight for the omnibus bill and the committee measure respectively refused to consider the suggestion, but other senators, who want to clear the way for the consideration of other important legislation, seemed to regard it as a practicable means of bringing the debate to a close.

Quay Criticizes.

When the statehood bill came up Mr. Beveridge had read a number of resolutions adopted at a recent convention in Oklahoma favoring single statehood with Indian Territory. Mr. Quay, who is leading the fight for the admission of Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico, criticized the resolutions, saying the people who adopted them had not acted intelligently because the single statehood bill had been withdrawn. He further charged that they did not represent the sentiment of a majority of the people of Oklahoma.

Mr. Beveridge answered that the observations of the committee which had visited Oklahoma convinced its members that a majority of the people of the territory favored single statehood.

Mr. Nelson of Minnesota continued, but did not conclude his remarks in opposition to the omnibus statehood bill.

AID FOR PHILIPPINES.

Relief Appropriation of $3,000,000 Is Asked for Islands.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The president submitted to congress the third annual report of the Philippine commission, with extensive appendices. Accompanying the President's letter of transmittal was a letter from Secretary Root, making a strong plea for immediate help by congress for the inhabitants of the archipelago. In endorsing Secretary Root's recommendations the President says:

"I call your special attention to the recommendations contained in this letter of the secretary of war. I most earnestly feel that the enactment of the measure already pending in your body for the betterment of the Philippine Islands is imperatively demanded by the situation in those islands and serious calamity may come from failure to enact them. Furthermore, I with equal earnestness ask your attention to the recommendation of the secretary of war in the accompanying letter and urge its adoption so that the sum of money therein specified may be appropriated for the uses and in the manner likewise specified, in order that the present distress in the islands may be remedied."

A relief appropriation of $3,000,000 is asked. The secretary of war says that the Filipinos are more in need than were the Cubans, Porto Ricans or even the hurricane sufferers for whom money was given. The suffering and distress in the islands results from the destruction by rinderpest of 90 per cent of the caribous, the draft animals of the islands, and the consequent failure of the rice crop, followed by an epidemic of cholera.

Financial Probe.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Representative Morrell of Pennsylvania offered a joint resolution authorizing the president to appoint a commission, to consist of the secretary of the treasury, the comptroller of the currency and such others, number not stated, as the president may deem necessary, to investigate existing financial laws and to devise a financial system which will remedy whatever faults they may find in the existing system. The resolution provides for a report to congress at the next session.

AMERICAN ARBITRATION.

Senate Committee Reports Bill to Settle Western Disputes.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The senate committee on foreign relations authorized Senator Lodge to report favorably the general international arbitration treaty recommended by the pan-American conference held at the City of Mexico last winter. The treaty is on the lines of The Hague treaty, but applies only to the republics of the western hemisphere. It provides a tribunal for settling disputes as to boundary lines and claims and also over other questions concerning which nations may differ.

During the executive session of the senate the report of the committee was submitted to the senate, but no action was taken.

In the bill there is a provision to resort to mediation in case of a conflict which promises to lead to war, and in this connection the right to offer mediation is specifically set forth as follows: "The right to offer the good offices or mediation belongs to powers who are strangers to the conflict, even during the course of hostilities. The exercise of this right shall never be regarded by either of the contending parties as an unfriendly act."

A commission of inquiry is authorized in disagreements arising on questions of fact.

After the Conventions.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—Indiana members of congress have begun an agitation for holding one or both of the national conventions at Indianapolis in 1904. Subscriptions aggregating $65,000 have been raised at Indianapolis for building a monster coliseum. The telegraphic and hotel facilities of the Indiana capital are said to be adequate to the strain of a national convention.

Confirmed by Senate.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The senate has confirmed the nomination of Charles Page Bryan as minister to Portugal, David J. Hill as minister to Switzerland and Frances B. Loomis as assistant secretary of state.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Hawaii's delegate in congress, Robert W. Wilcox, is in trouble. A number of creditors have appealed to the courts here to secure the partial payment of his debts, seeking to tie up his mileage allowance.

One Coaling Station.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The indications are that the United States will satisfy itself by claiming only one coaling station in Cuba, namely, at Guantanamo.

Post for Georgia Man.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The president has nominated Marcellus O. Markham, Georgia, to be surveyor of customs for the port of Atlanta, Ga.

MILLER IS CHOSEN SPEAKER OF HOUSE

COMMITTEE FOR MR. SHERMAN

New Presiding Officer Honors His Opponent by Naming Him to Assist in Formulating Rules for the Guidance of Members.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 8.—The forty-third general assembly of Illinois has been organized.

The opening session was signalized by a special message from the governor in addition to his regular biennial message, in which he transmitted a state civil service bill. The governor's action, making himself virtually the father of a civil service measure fairly comprehensive, is taken as a guaranty that some kind of a civil service bill will be passed at this session of the legislature. More civil service bills are on the way, and this subject promises to be one of the very heaviest ones to be handled at this session.

Will Choose Senator.

Although organized, the general assembly will not do any business and will not try to until after the election of a United States senator. No committee assignments will be made in the house pending final action on the senatorship. The first ballot for United States senator will be taken Jan. 21, as provided by the federal statute. Both houses intend to adjourn to give the senator-makers a chance.

The process of organizing the general assembly for a hard winter's work was practically the same in both branches and entirely smooth on the surface.

Secretary Rose Presides.

James A. Rose, secretary of state, called the house to order at 12:11 o'clock. While Schlagenhauf and Bowles were bringing in Justice Carter of the Supreme Court to administer the oath, the written oath, which each member is required to sign and file with the secretary of state, was distributed on slips for the signatures of the members. Justice Carter then swore in the 153 members in a body.

Representative Wilkinson nominated D. E. Shanahan for temporary speaker. Representative M. L. McKinley did the same for Richard E. Burke of Chicago. The roll call showed the party vote, McManaman being recorded with the Democrats—88 for Shanahan and 63 for Burke. Secretary Rose turned over the house to Mr. Shanahan and business commenced.

Miller Is Elected.

McElvain of Jackson nominated John H. Miller for permanent speaker in a speech touching mildly on the harmony which follows the speaker-ship fight and glorifying the achievements of the Republican party in Illinois. Johnson of Whiteside did the same for the principals of the Democratic party in nominating John P. Wilson of Orle.

Nohe seconded Miller's nomination and Tippet of Richland Wilson's. The roll call was the same as the first one.

All that followed was mere routine, covering election of clerk and other employees of the house, providing for additional employees and for supplies and so on.

Sherman on Committee.

L. Y. Sherman was thrust to the front when the speaker was authorized to appoint a committee to act with himself in drafting rules for the house. Sherman was named on it with Chipfield, Curtis and Lindly, Republicans, and Johnson, Petrie and Wilson, Democrats. Sherman's preference is not to be put on committees of any kind, but having been thus courteously thrust upon a committee, he probably will serve. The rules committee is usually a perfunctory body, anyhow. All through the session Sherman sat in the very farthest back row of seats, with retainers all around him.

The speaker was authorized by resolution to name time and place for a Tanner-McKinley memorial meeting. The governor's message and his special message carrying the civil service bill were not read in the house, but 5,000 copies of each were ordered printed.

Senate Organizes.

Lieutenant Governor Northcott, in calling the senate to order, complimented it on being "the most scientifically organized body in the world." John C. McKenzie of Jo Daviess was elected president pro tem, and L. B. Stringer of Logan was installed as minority leader in the usual way. After employees of the senate had been chosen and more authorized the governor's message was read in full, and the various parts of it referred to the committee which will have those subjects in charge.

FAIRBANKS SURE OF TOGA.

Indiana Democrats Will Give Compulsory Vote to Shively.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—The Democrats in the legislature agreed at a caucus to vote for D. H. Shively of South Bend for United States senator. The legislature is overwhelmingly Republican and Senator Fairbanks will be elected.

The Republican members caucused and named the following slates: President pro tem, and floor leader of senate, Fred E. Matson, Indianapolis; Principal Secretary, Harmon L. Hutson, Indianapolis; Assistant Secretary, Fred Snyder, Angola; Principal doorkeeper, Clemer Pelzer, Boonville; Speaker of house, Henry W. Marshall, Lafayette; Principal clerk, W. E. Reagan, Indianapolis; Assistant clerk, George D. Helman, Evansville; Principal doorkeeper, G. F. Ogden, Wabash.

Is only one form of the suffering resulting from a diseased condition of the sensitive womanly organism. The only way to cure the headache is to cure the diseases which cause it.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of curing thousands of women of headache, backache, female weakness and other forms of disease peculiar to women. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures bearing-down pains.

"I think if it were not for your 'Favorite Prescription' I would have been in my grave," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Egypt, Plymouth Co., Mass., Box 14. "I had pain all over me, and such a dragging feeling it seemed I could not do my house work. I had to sit down to wash the dishes, even. In the year 1901 I was so sick I did not care to live and prayed many times that God would take me. One day I thought I would write to Dr. Pierce. In a few days I received an answer. I decided to try his medicine, and to-day I am a well woman. I have no headache, no pain at all. I used always to have headaches previous to the monthly period, and such pain that I would roll on the floor in agony. This sometimes would occur every two weeks, and I would be very weak afterward. I was in pain all over. My feet would slip from under me when I would try to go across the room, and I could not walk any distance without being in pain. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three of 'Doctor Pierce's Pellets,' and was completely cured."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets stimulate the liver.

TERRIBLE TURK LOOSER TO BEELL

He Dislocates the Turk's Left Shoulder with Hammer Lock in First Fall.

Fred Beell, the Marshfield wrestler put Youseff, the Terrible Turk, out of business at the Riverside rink, after thirty-four minutes of as fine wrestling as was ever seen in Janesville. A hammer lock that the Turk could not break did the trick and he had to cry enough or have his left arm twisted out of his shoulder. He was so badly hurt before he gave in that he could not continue the match and Beell was declared the winner.

A large audience witnessed the match which was called about 9:45 after a preliminary bout between Fred Powers and Ollie Muellenbach, two fifteen year old boys from Marshfield. The boys showed that they were well up in the wrestling game and could get out of a tight place as well as the older wrestlers. The first fall went to Powers in eleven minutes. The next two were won by Muellenbach in four and a half and three minutes respectively. All the falls were secured by half-Nelson holds.

Youseff And Beell
Youseff and Beell appeared on the floor immediately after the preliminary. W. H. Appleby of Beloit acted as referee and Colin C. MacLean of this city, as time keeper and master of ceremonies. Both men were loudly cheered on their appearance. Beell being the general favorite with the audience who looked for him to show the Turk a few things.

Mr. MacLean, first introduced to the audience Dan Murphy, the champion wrestler of the Pacific coast, who challenged the winner of the bout to wrestle him any time inside of three weeks for any sum up to $500. Beell, after the match signified his willingness to meet Murphy and they will probably have a go inside the next two weeks.

The match between Beell and Youseff was catch-as-catch-can, pin falls only to count, rolling falls and strangle hold barred.

After considerable sparring for holds in which Beell showed he was not at all backward about mixing up, both went to the mat, the Turk having the upper hold. He tried several holds, which Beell either slipped or broke and finally secured a half-Nelson. After a short struggle Beell broke the Turk's hold and in the skirmish that followed Beell came out on top and had the Turk on the defensive. Beell, tried a half-Nelson, which the Turk broke. In a short time Beell tried another half-Nelson which the Turk broke again and both men jumped to their feet.

Down Again
They soon went to the mat again with Beell on top. Beell tried a hammer lock and failed, the Turk breaking the hold. Beell then tried a full Nelson but could not make it go. Finally after thirty-four minutes Beell secured another hammer lock and soon had the Turk's left arm twisted up over his back. The Turk made a terrible effort to get away but could not break the Marshfield man's hold.

Turk Gives Up
Beell continued twisting and pulling until referee Appleby, seeing that the Turk had to go or have his arm twisted out of the socket asked him if he gave up. The Turk at first said no but finally to save a dislocated shoulder called enough and the fall was awarded to Beell.

Badly Hurt
The Turk could not get his arm back in shape and Referee Appleby turned it back into place. As soon as the Turk reached his dressing room Dr. St. John was called and examined him. He said the arm had been twisted out of the socket but went back in place when it was straightened out, but that the Turk could not go on with the match and would have a lame arm for some time.

Beell's Match
Beell, appeared on the mat at the call of time and Mr. MacLean announced that the Turk could not go on with the match and that Referee Appleby awarded the match to Beell. Early in the bout Beell but his right knee cap badly but gamely continued the bout to victory. His win was a popular one as he weighed but 154 pounds while the Turk weighed 188.

AUXILIARY BUYS PIANO FOR Y. M. C. A.

Women Are Now Anxious to Raise the One Hundred Dollars Remaining Unpaid

There has been installed in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium recently, a handsome piano which has been purchased by the Woman's Auxiliary. The piano is to remain in the building permanently and is especially designed for use in the regular Sunday afternoon meetings and in entertainments.

For several years the need of a piano in the association building has been felt. The association has never owned one but for some time they enjoyed the free use of one which was loaned by H. F. Nott. Since its removal there has been no piano at the building permanently. On the many occasions when one was absolutely necessary, the association has been forced to hire one or to pay the dayrate on it. There are infinitely more times when the musical instrument would be desirable but when the incurring of the expense of rental and moving would not be warranted.

Ladies Buy A Piano
Finally the Woman's Auxiliary determined to take the matter in hand and to provide the building with a musical instrument. Last month the piano was purchased and paid for, with the exception of $100. Now the ladies are anxious to wipe out this balance and considerable time was devoted to discussing ways and means at the regular meeting of the auxiliary on Tuesday afternoon. It was decided to raise as much of this fund as possible by personal subscriptions and the work of soliciting will be taken up at once.

For The Dormitories
Considerable other business of routine importance was transacted at the meeting. The ladies will begin at once on new comfortable for the dormitories at the building, an order for the purchase of the material having been passed on Tuesday afternoon. The ladies take almost the entire charge of the dormitories and their furnishings.

THE FEAST BEFORE THE INSTALLATION

Ben Hur Members Will Enjoy A Spread at Their Meeting This Evening.

This evening at East Side Odd Fellows' hall Ben Hur Court will give a banquet for members of the lodge, following the installation of officers for the coming year. A committee has been planning for the banquet for some time past and it promises to be an elaborate and enjoyable affair. Invitations have also been issued by the lodge for a dancing party to be given at East Side Odd Fellows hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 13.
